

About the Series

How do we cope with life's many challenges and the weight of sin's consequences? How does God work in the lives of the people He loves? The book of Isaiah answers these questions and many more as it takes us on a life-changing journey from warning to redemption, reminding us of a faithful God who never leaves us, and calling us to trust the Savior who breaks through the darkness and brings hope and new life.

» Talk It Through

1. When you hear "God provides the best of the best," what's your honest first reaction? Do you feel that's easy to believe, hard to believe, or something you're still learning to trust?
2. What does Isaiah 25–26 show you about the kind of life God is ultimately preparing for His people, and how does that reshape your view of what "God's blessings" actually mean? What stood out to you most from the message about how God provides, especially in terms of protection, provision, salvation, and peace? What does that reveal about His character?
3. The sermon talked about worry coming when we stop actively trusting God. Where in your life do you notice worry creeping in the most lately?
4. What would it look like for you to "entrust it to God and leave it there" this week, instead of trying to control or carry it yourself?
